Swoop: Officers lead away a suspect found at a Tottenham property

ON TARGET

Huge haul of loot seized during police raids in crackdown

By Lucy Purdy

POLICE in Haringey seized dozens of bagfuls of laptops, satnavs and mobile phones during a London-wide crackdown on robbers, burglars and violent criminals.

Six people from the borough were arrested on suspicion of handling stolen goods and drugs offences after officers carried out two search warrants at properties in Tottenham on Wednesday. They were accompanied on the dawn raids by London Mayor Boris Johnson in a high-profile launch of Operation Target – promising to go to war on burglary and violent crime.

More than 1,500 officers carried out simultaneous raids across the capital.

The areas targeted initially make up just two per cent of London geographically but, police say, constitute almost a third of all street robberies and the most serious violence in the capital as well as 15 per cent of residential burglaries and 20 per cent of non-residential burglaries.

More than 100 satnavs, 20 computers, nine mobile phones, seven iPods, 14 digital cameras, 17 car stereos and 34 power tools were among the thousands of pounds of electrical items seized in Haringey.

Commander Maxine de Brunner, the officer

“Burglars, robbers and drug dealers should take heed as their crime-funded lifestyles may soon be ending.”

leading Operation Target, said: “Target is a long-term drive to reduce crime and keep it down. The operation is due to last for at least six months and will see the relentless deployment of our specialist assets, resources, tactics and skills in areas which suffer disproportionate levels of crime and anti-social behaviour.”

It was billed as one of the largest crackdowns on crimes such as robbery, burglary and violence ever carried out by the Met.

Mr Johnson came face to face with a suspected drug dealer in Tottenham who asked the mayor: “What the f are you doing here?”

Mr Johnson described the offences as “perilous criminality” which devastated the lives of ordinary people.

Mayor joins forces to surprise the suspects

"I'VE seen first-hand today the immense hard work that goes into carrying out policing operations and I have every confidence that Target will be a complete success. These raids will have an immediate effect on the hundreds of local residents who have been living under a cloud of fear."

Specialist Met teams such as the Flying Squad, traffic and mounted branch will be supporting borough police to continue the operation in the coming months. As well as making arrests and disrupting criminal deals in the short term, officers hope the operation will result in a longer-term feeling of safety in places such as Haringey.

Assistant Commissioner Ian McPherson, head of Territorial Policing at the Met, said: "The MPS is here for London, and to help keep communities safe we are enhancing our efforts to tackle crimes against people and property.

"Operation Target is to be the largest sustained crackdown against crimes such as robbery, burglary and violence ever conducted by the MPS. While robbery and burglary are still relatively low in comparison to previous years we are determined to cut these offences further.

"The public can support this operation and help themselves from becoming a victim of crime by taking some basic prevention measures.

"By bringing together borough-based knowledge and expertise with the skills of our specialist units we will make a real and sustainable difference, allowing people to go about their daily lives feeling more confident and safe."

Application lodged for waste site

A PLANNING application has been lodged with Haringey Council to build a new waste plant at Pinkham Way.

Documents were lodged in a joint application by The North London Waste Authority and Barnet Council for the site on the border of Haringey, Enfield and Barnet.

NLWA bosses, who are also responsible for disposing of waste from Camden, Hackney, Islington and Waltham Forest, claim the plant is necessary to cope with rubbish from Haringey and the surrounding areas in light of stringent EU recycling targets of 50 per cent recycled or composted waste by 2020. The plan is to create an EcoPark of 15,000 square metres which can accept up to 300,000 tonnes of waste every year.

The proposals have been met with widespread anger by local residents, who have come together to form the Pinkham Way Alliance, as well as councillors from Enfield, Barnet and Haringey.

The formal consultation period will begin once the application has been checked, with the application being accessible through the council's website and local householders and businesses receiving letters on the proposed scheme.

The next stage of consultation with people is a public meeting, called a Development Management Forum, where residents can raise issues of concern.

Further information will be posted on Haringey Council's website www.haringey.gov.uk once consultation opens.

Race on to find Olympic torch bearers

By Lucy Purdy

NEXT summer will see the Olympic Torch light up Haringey on its way to the London 2012 stadium in Stratford.

The torch will wing its way to the borough on July 25, ahead of an official Olympics evening celebration, as part of its 70-day relay route to usher in London's turn to host the world's biggest sporting event.

The Olympic flame will arrive in the UK from Greece on May 18 and the torch relay will start at Land's End, Cornwall, the next morning.

On leaving Land's End, the Olympic Flame is expected to travel an estimated 8,000 miles around the UK before arriving at the Olympic stadium on July 27 for the lighting of the cauldron at the opening ceremony.

Nominations are now open to select

Hot ticket: Seb Coe with the torch

Olympic Torchbearers and it is hoped that a handful of Haringey residents will be among the 8,000 picked to help the flame along its way from Land's End to London. Torch relay organisers are on the hunt for torchbearers whose personal stories will inspire millions – “from those in their local communities to those watching around the world”.

Councillor Alan Strickland, cabinet member for economic development and social inclusion, said: “The buzz around the Olympics is building and this could be a great chance for Haringey residents to get involved with the celebrations.

“If you know anyone who you think would make a worthy torchbearer, now's the time to nominate them and help to bring a part of the 2012 London festivities to Haringey.”

Torchbearer nominations are open until June 29. For more information and to make a nomination for a torch bearer, visit www.london2012.com/olympic_torchrelay news.haringey@nlhnews.co.uk

MP demand for doctor in Baby Peter case to quit

LYNNE FEATHERSTONE has called for the chief executive of Great Ormond Street Hospital to resign after “covering up” failings in the Baby Peter case.

The MP for Hornsey and Wood Green accused Dr Jane Collins of hiding management failings following the death of the toddler at a house in Peshurst Road, Tottenham, in 2007.

Dr Collins contributed to the Sibert Report, established to investigate the systems of child protection, run by Great Ormond Street Hospital in Haringey at the time.

But her addendum did not include key criticisms of the management and child protection practices.

Ms Featherstone said: “There is now clear evidence information was withheld from the serious case review into the death of Baby Peter. Key criticisms were edited out and it appears there was an attempt to cover up the fact the situation was ‘clinically risky’.

“The key person in charge in Haringey was dismissed from post. The key managers also lost their jobs. But the chief executive and the managers at GOSH who presided over this ‘clinically risky situation’ are still in post. Their roles and culpability have never faced proper scrutiny.

“This can be nothing other than a deliberate attempt to hide the management failings, and subvert the serious case review process.

“It is not possible to learn the right lessons unless all relevant and important information has been disclosed, whatever the impact on the hospitals and health trusts involved.”

In a letter to Jo Williams, chairwoman of the Care Quality Commission, Baroness Tessa Blackstone, chairwoman of the GOSH board, Secretary of State for Education, Michael Gove and Secretary of State for Health, Andrew Lansley, Ms Featherstone has called for an investigation into Dr Collins' actions.

But Baroness Blackstone said: “The trust board has complete confidence in Dr Collins. She is a first-class CEO. As a board, we have confidence the trust has never sought to mislead any inquiry into the death of a child.

“The non-executive directors have met Ms Featherstone to discuss her concerns with her. We did not accept her views.”

Memorabilia wanted from Palace gigs

PEOPLE with fond memories of Alexandra Palace are being asked to contribute to a campaign to capture the palace's history.

Whether it is an old ticket to Pink Floyd from the 1960s, a poster from a Stone Roses gig in the '90s or more recent memorabilia from the Jay-Z concert in 2009, organisers will post the “most intriguing” pieces on the walls of the newly renovated bar and kitchen.

To share memories with Ally Pally, visitors should take hard copies of their memorabilia to the bar and kitchen or email electronic copies to marketing@alexandrapalace.com

The winning memorabilia, as voted for by visitors dining and drinking at the palace, will be mounted on the wall and the donor will win a pair of tickets to an event of their choice. Palace chiefs recently approved plans to transform the iconic palace into a prestigious live music venue to rival the 02 and Southbank Centre.

“It is very exciting and we hope Alexandra Palace will be known not just as the live music venue for London, but across the world,” said managing director Rebecca Kane at the time.

“We considered the iconic status of the building and the heritage – this building was built in 1873 when leisure, entertainment and music were the core things happening here.”

The Bar & Kitchen is open from 11am–11pm daily. Call 020 8365 4356 or visit www.alexandrapalace.com for more details.

Teen filmmakers Zone in on glory with slice of life from Tottenham

By Lucy Purdy

A TEAM of talented teenagers showcased their production skills at a premiere of their film documenting life in their corner of Tottenham.

A group of 25 students from Northumberland Park Community School celebrated with the first public screening of their film The Zone.

The work was written, edited and produced by members of the Lights, Camera, Action! group, and follows a series of events which centre around an MC-ing competition.

The project was supported by Families Into Work, a scheme run by Haringey Council which aims to improve the chances of employment for families in Northumberland Park.

LCA member Esra Kose said: "When I started LCA I knew this was another path for me, but in this path I saw the light at the end and this helped me to see where I'm going. At times we laughed together, got frustrated together, but we always stayed with each other."

The film was screened at a multimedia celebration at the school, featuring poetry, drama, singing and speeches.

Families Into Work family support officer, Naomi Woodland, said: "It was an amazing evening – moving, inspirational and a true reflection of the talent these young people have and the message they want to deliver to the wider community."

Councillor Toni Mallett, cabinet member for planning and regeneration, added: "The aim of Families Into Work is to tackling long-term unemployment in Northumberland Park and inspire the young people who live there to strive for more. LCA has empowered these young people to take control of their own futures."

Rage over park cage

Militant: Richard Wilson is demanding answers

RESIDENTS and councillors in Hornsey have spoken out after a large metal enclosure appeared in Stationers Park, apparently without any warning, consultation or planning permission.

An emergency meeting of the Friends of Stationers Park was called last week to discuss the fenced area which is being used to store Veolia's street-cleaning handcarts – despite Veolia not being responsible for cleaning parks. The company recently became Haringey Council's waste contractor after taking over from Enterprise.

Liberal Democrat councillor Richard Wilson contacted the council's recreation boss to ask who gave Veolia permission to use the site and demand a new site be found as soon as possible.

Mr Wilson has also asked planning officers to investigate whether Veolia has planning permission for the site, and whether nearby trees have been damaged by its construction.

He said: "Residents and park users are understandably furious. This ugly fenced enclosure, which can be seen from large parts of the park, went up seemingly without any notice, consultation or planning permission. It is a blight on a well-loved local park. I've asked planning officers to investigate whether planning rules have been breached as I'm sure a fence of this size must need permission – particularly as the facility has nothing to do with the maintenance of the park. I also want an investigation into whether nearby trees were damaged when the fence posts were put in the ground."

A council spokesman said: "We had planned further work to make the enclosure less intrusive and more in keeping with the rest of the park, including planting trees and shrubs to mask the fencing.

"However, officers from the council and Veolia will be meeting the Friends Group to discuss our plans and listen to any suggestions they may have for the enclosure, including the type and height of fencing which has been used.

"The enclosure was set up so that cleaning equipment could be stored in local areas, rather than equipment and staff having to be transported from depots further away, reducing the number of vehicle movements on Haringey roads and reducing pollution."

Quench your thirst for Cyprus

HAVE you ever been to Cyprus? Going to Cyprus? Just interested in Cyprus?! Then Alexandra Palace has the perfect festival for you.

Since 1993 it has been hosting the Cyprus Wine Festival – the best festival for lovers of Aphrodite's birthplace and one of the most celebrated community events for Britain's Cypriot community.

The title is a bit of a misnomer – wine is toasted in true Cypriot style at the event but everything else to do with the island is also celebrated, as one of the organisers Neothytos Nicolaou explained. "We've got the halloumi, the feta, olives, and sweets, and outside there are stalls selling kebabs and kleffico. And, of course, there will be lots of traditional dancing and singing from the renowned Greek artist Glykeria and guest star, Sarel – much adored by the London Cypriot community having been born and raised here."

There will be more than 100 stands exhibiting everything from houses for sale in Cyprus to the best Cypriot wine, as well as jewellery, bags, soft toys, shoes, clothes, books, religious icons, candles and CDs. There will also be a kids' corner to keep youngsters amused, while adults might prefer the business exhibition which will include successful Cypriot businesses such as major banks, airlines and estate agents.

● It takes place next Saturday from 11am to 11pm and Sunday from 11am to 9pm. Admission on the door is £6 (adults), £4 (over 60s) and free for under 12s. Visitors over the age of 18 will receive a small, complimentary bottle of wine when handing over their ticket at the wine-tasting stand.

Sweet taste sensation at former chocolate factory

Mosaica At The Factory,
The Chocolate Factory,
Clarendon Road, Wood Green
020 8889 2400

AN INDUSTRIAL estate... a former Chocolate Factory... youths hanging around street corners – hardly the most obvious setting for this little haven of coolness.

But we Gannet Girls had heard intriguing things about Mosaica and knew it would be worth the visit.

With black walls dripping with candle wax, romantic strings of fairy lights and tin foil – yes the kind you roast chickens in – plastered on to the ceiling, the restaurant looks unique and enticing.

After entering past a security guard – only in Wood Green! – we took our seats in-between mismatched pieces of junk-shop furniture and splashes of colourful artwork.

Mosaica's speciality is top-quality seasonal British produce, with meat and fish arriving daily, and our busy-but-charismatic waiter explained how the menu often changes twice every day to reflect whatever tasty goodies the farmer or fishmonger turns up with. A refreshing change from the fried chicken and dead man's leg kebabs further up the road.

Gut-busting Gannet opted for smoked salmon tranche with apple and coriander salsa to start (£8), declaring the fresh but tongue-tingling salsa a perfect accompaniment to the intensely smokey fish, and my chargrilled asparagus with parmesan (£7.80) was fresh, sweet and sumptuously summery.

And the quality did not let up.

My 21-hour slow-roasted pork belly with potatoes and red cabbage (£15.50) seemed to defy culinary logic as the meat remained beautifully tender and moist underneath some pretty perfect crackling.

And Gut-busting couldn't stop squawking over his pink lamb rump with parsley mash and green beans (£16.95), which was perfectly cooked and "properly meaty tasting".

A bowl of gloopy and rich sticky

Hidden treasure: Mosaica At The Factory serves up gourmet treats

toffee pudding with butterscotch sauce (£6) was the stuff of childhood dreams – the pud boasting a wonderfully chewy, caramelised bottom – which we shared while remarking that the meal was so wonderful it even made the phrase

"Wood Green cultural village" sound not all that ridiculous.

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that: 1. Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.

2. 'Classified' Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisers', and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative. To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as 'trade', 'dealer', 'agent', 'wholesaler', '(T)' etc. in the advertisement.

3. The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:

(a) Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;

(b) Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or

(c) Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the Advertiser.

4. The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.

5. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.

6. The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.

7. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republication or allowances.

8. All gross advertising rates (except classified image and semi-display) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.

9. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.

10. Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.

11. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.

12. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.

13. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.

(1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed.

(2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.

14. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect of an advertisement(s) should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.

15. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.

16. All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.

17. The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.

18. The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.

Box Numbers
Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade canvassing matter. HEALTHCARE primary care at its best

RECEPTIONIST/ADMINISTRATOR

Barndoc Healthcare is a key provider of high quality primary care services across several North London Boroughs.

A vacancy has arisen for a Receptionist/Administrator to work within our new GP Assessment service within the Accident and Emergency Department at the North Middlesex University Hospital, London, N18 1QX. The service will initially be piloted until 31 March 2012 and therefore the role will be appointed on a fixed-term contract until this date.

This essential role will act as a support for Barndoc GPs as well as assist patients in accessing the appropriate services following a GP assessment at the Assessment and Urgent Care Centre. This role involves working face-to-face with the public and therefore previous customer service experience and excellent administration skills are essential.

Candidates must also have good interpersonal and IT skills and be able to work as part of a team and under pressure. The role is new and will be diverse, so it is essential that the ideal candidate is able to multi-task as well as demonstrate flexibility to fulfil the role as required.

Closing date for applications is 22 June 2011 at 5pm.

Please e-mail requests for an information pack and an application form to recruitment@barndoc.nhs.uk

CROUCH HAPPY AT TOTTENHAM

By Dominique Stafford

PETER CROUCH insists he is happy to stay at Tottenham Hotspur despite reported interest from Sunderland.

Although the England international striker impressed in the Champions League last season, he struggled domestically – like the rest of Spurs' front men – and only managed four Premier League goals.

Manager Harry Redknapp is believed to be looking to bolster his forward line over the summer, but Crouch has revealed that he wants to stay and fight for his place at White Hart Lane.

"Of course I'm happy where I am," he said. "It's a great club and, in my opinion, it's on the up."

"We have a lot more to achieve. There's no doubt that every team are going to make themselves stronger and we can't fall behind."

"I'm sure that the manager and chairman have got plans about who they will want to bring in to add that little bit of quality which takes us to maybe that next step."

And Redknapp has made it clear that he wants to keep Crouch at the club.

"Crouchy is a good player," he said. "He is a great lad. He's not one I'm looking to shift. We are looking to bring a striker in, but he is not one of those that we are looking to sell if we can help it."

Meanwhile, the manager has urged chairman Daniel Levy to buy three top-quality players over the summer to help Tottenham's bid to secure Champions League football next season.

Spurs enjoyed some memorable European nights on their way to reaching the quarter-finals of the competition this year, but they faded badly in the Premier League in the closing weeks of the campaign to end up in fifth.

"I want Daniel to go out and get three fantastic players," Redknapp said. "You can't say that just because we didn't make the Champions League we're not going to improve."

"I certainly feel we need three players of real quality if we're going to compete. Otherwise it will be very difficult, but I don't see why it's impossible to get in the Champions League again."

Going nowhere: Peter Crouch is happy at White Hart Lane

Much-improved Skolars secure another victory

THE dramatic transformation in the London Skolars' fortunes continued on Sunday when they recorded an 18-16 win at home to second-placed Keighley Cougars in rugby league's Co-Operative Championship One.

The Skolars had suffered a crushing 66-6 defeat in the earlier meeting between the sides, but they have suddenly found their form in recent weeks and this narrow triumph was their second win against highly rated opposition in three matches.

The hosts proved to be dominant in the first half and opened up an 8-0 lead by the interval courtesy of a Jarsolaw Obuchowski try on 20 minutes and successful conversion and penalty from Dylan Skee.

The Skolars' advantage was further increased in the early stages of the second period as Ben Bolger crossed the line.

But Keighley came storming back and tries from Jason Demetriou, Jamaine Wray and Ryan Benjafield – coupled with two conversions from Danny Lawton – enabled them to move 16-12 ahead.

The Skolars refused to lie down and an Ade Adebisi try levelled the scores, before Skee sealed their victory by slotting over what proved to be the decisive penalty with four minutes left.

The London Skolars, who have been further boosted by the signing of full-back Will Collieran from Wakefield, return to action at Doncaster on June 26.
